Update from your Board of Directors

Happy September Everybody!

The summer is fast departing and many High Park Club members are thinking about the approaching curling season. Our tennis section members are wondering where the summer season has gone. So much rain... so little tennis.

Over the summer months club members have been busily meeting to set our Club renovation plan into action. Here's a quick update on the plan and what you can expect early in the upcoming curling season.

The work on the plumbing drains has begun and will result in the closure of the basement for about 10 days in mid-September. Tennis section members, please take special note... you'll not have lockers or showers for about two weeks.

Work will also soon be underway to replace the men's basement washroom. This allows us to begin work on replacing the ground floor men's washroom with the new bar we're all waiting for!

If you're planning to attend the President's Roast (Wednesday, September 10th), you'll notice the newly renovated groundskeepers shed in the north parking lot. A great job completed on time and on budget by one of our own Club employees.

Next Wednesday's Roast will also be a great opportunity for everyone to see the latest renovation drawings. Your Board members will be there to answer your questions about the long-range renovation plan for your Club.

Much is happening around the Club. You'll see it all happening around you starting in mid-September. We'll do all we can to minimize disruption but, hey, sometimes that's what change brings!

Hope to see you at the Roast!

A message from the High Park Manager

Monday September 1, 2008

Hello High Park Members:

We have less than one month before we are back on the ice. Please check out the website to ensure you have the correct start dates for all the curling leagues www.highparkclub.com. Although tennis has not ended yet the wind down of another season is starting.

Almost all of our leagues are full again this year. If you know of anyone looking to join the club we have a few spots still available on Saturday night and both our day leagues are looking for new members. Have them contact the office or check online for more information. We have billed all the curling sections except for day ladies so if you have received your bill and have not been charged please call the office as we do not have you registered for the upcoming curling season yet.

As I mentioned last month check out our website monthly for new updates and information about what is going on around the club. With the huge success of the Jazz night in July and the double feature in August we are having another music night in combination with our Wine and Cheese this year. Mark September 19, 2008 as our Wine and Cheese night. Come out to the club for a glass of wine, see some new club information, get discounts on the new pro-shop inventory, including High Park jackets, vests and more. Everything will be on sale for this one day only, print the coupon off our website. In addition we will have live music that night. Plan an evening of it and get ready for another fantastic curling season.

The president's BBQ is September 10, if you have not received a phone call or email yet and are interested in coming please contact the office to be put on the list. I look forward to seeing everyone around the club this month for the different planned events.

Sincerely,

Abbie Darnley
